2006 Academy Inductees

During the 2006 Field Engineering conferences, 20 Field Engineers were honored for their significant contributions to the installation and servicing of GE gas turbines, steam turbine-generators, generators, electrical equipment, or turbine control equipment. The Academy was established to recognize those individuals who exhibit outstanding character, technical competence and sustained leadership as recognized by their peers, management product department and customers.

To learn more about the history of the Academy and the criteria for selection, check out the Academy intranet site:
